Sheila Woods, MD

Greenville ADHD Specialists

Dr. Woods is a board-certified pediatrician who has been practicing medicine for over 39 years. She completed her undergraduate and medical school education at the University of Kentucky in Lexington, Kentucky, as well as her Pediatric Internship and Residency. She was also selected to participate in additional training in Child and Adolescent Psychopharmacology offered by the Department of Child Psychiatry at Columbia University in New York.

Her work has included private practice in General Pediatrics for 14 years and academic work as an Associate Professor of Pediatrics for 18 years at the University of Kentucky Department of Pediatrics. During her tenure in academia, she was teaching, doing clinical research, and providing clinical care with an interest in child abuse, Adolescent Medicine, and Developmental and Behavioral Pediatrics.

In 2012, Dr. Woods opened a specialty practice in Greenville providing evidence-based diagnosis and treatment for children, teens, and young adults with ADHD and related conditions. Subsequently, she expanded Greenville ADHD Specialists to include care for adults. Dr. Woods feels it is the highest privilege for families to allow her to evaluate their most precious family members to help alleviate the struggles they may experience.

In her leisure time, Dr. Woods enjoys her four young grandchildren and reading, and hopes her future also holds travel with family and friends.

Wakesha Fogle

Suzanne Siman, MACC, LPC

Carolina Center for Counseling and Behavioral Interventions, LLC

Ms. Siman practices independently within the CCCBI. The Center encompasses values of excellence and professionalism that are important to Suzy. Over the past 12 years, she has worked closely with children and families. These experiences, along with her educational experiences, have reinforced a high standard of care. She received a Master of Arts in Christian Counseling from Gordon-Conwell Theological Seminary and licensure as a Licensed Professional Counselor.

Ms. Siman enjoys working with children and families with diverse needs through group and individual sessions. Group sessions may include emotional/anger management, social skills, and coping skills. Suzy feels that family involvement is integral to the success of the child and strives to assist the family in developing knowledge and skills to reach their potential. Her areas of interest include difficulties related to adoption, attachment, trauma, aggression, ADHD, Asperger's, anxiety, depression, and Autism Spectrum Disorder.
